

HEAR PAPER BY MRS. A. D. DANIELS

Opera, II Traviatore Is the Subject at the Woman's Club Tuesday.

The Woman's Club met Tuesday Jan. 9, at the library to study the Opera II Traviatore by Verdi, Italian composer.

The rendition of three scenes taken from this Opera, recently in our midst by the Le Brun Opera Co added somewhat to the enjoyment of the story as it was pleasingly told by Mrs. A. D. Daniels, who also gave a short sketch of the life of the composer, Verdi.

Time—the middle ages.

Place—Kingdom of Arragon, one of the powerful divisions of Spain.

A nobleman, Count De Luna, had two young sons. The younger, a babe, fell ill. A fantastically garbed gypsy woman, it was thought had bewitched the child and in spite of her denials was burned at the stake. In revenge her daughter, who witnessed her mother's death, stole the Count's child and hurried to the place of execution, intending to destroy its life but its pitiful wailing touched her heart and she laid it on the grass beside her own baby and fell in a swoon. On reviving, by mistake, she snatched up her own child and consumed it to the flames where its bones were afterwards discovered by Ferrando, a follower of the Count. Count De Luna, died soon after from grief. On his death bed he instructed his eldest son to continue the search for his brother.

Ancueta, the gypsy woman, picks up the Count's child and flees to the mountains of Biscaglia, where she rears him as her own son, naming him Manrico. Here he grows into manhood, beloved by his gypsy mother, and he in turn loves her devotedly. Being an expert with the sword and bearing of a conflict between the Kingdom of Arragon and other warring factions, he hurries to join the army opposing the Kingdom of Arragon. Learning of a tournament about to be held he donned a suit of black armor and with emblazoned shield joined the lists, and carried off the honors of the field.

He was crowned by Lady Leonora, one of the Queen of Arragon's waiting maids. They immediately fell in love, and often met in the Queen's garden. Manrico disguised as a Troubadour. The young Count De Luna was also a suitor of Lady Leonora and hearing of Manrico's visits intercepted one of their meetings and a duel took place between them, Manrico being victor. Later Manrico was wounded in battle and was left for dead on the field, but was nursed back to life by Ancueta. At last he was taken prisoner as was Ancueta, who was recognized by Ferrando. He informed the Count she was the one who killed his brother. Manrico was sentenced to be beheaded and Ancueta to be burned. Lady Leonora besought the Count to at the stake.

save Manrico's life which he consents to do only on the condition that she will be his bride. Sadly she promises and hurries away to release her lover, in the mean time on her way to the prison she sucks poison from her ring. She informs Manrico of his freedom; he refuses to accept it at such a cost, and she dies in his arms as the Count enters the room. He causes Manrico to be executed and drags Ancueta to the window to witness his death. She turns to him and exclaims "You have slain your brother, and my mother is avenged." The music for the day was taken from the Opera.

Mrs. D. J. Cole.

IMPROVEMENTS AT ALPINE
Mike Dolan, proprietor of the Alpine Hotel, has placed two new fire escapes on the hotel building and has also equipped each room with proper escapes to insure the safety of guests in case of fire.

Since taking charge of the Alpine Mr. Dolan has made several improvements about the property which are much appreciated by the patrons. Business with him is very good.

A PLEASING NUMBER

Chicago Glee Club Appears Here Last Monday

The Chicago Glee Club entertained a good sized audience at the Grand Opera House, Monday evening. This was the third number of the Rhinelander Entertainment Course and was a worthy attraction. The Club is composed of D. F. Thomas, second tenor; G. T. Henry, baritone; J. W. Turner, first tenor; C. H. Dixon, bass. The gentlemen are also trombone players and their vocal and instrumental selections were very pleasing.

Mr. Dixon's impersonations were highly humorous, especially his make up as a resident of the Hoosier state.

The next number on the course is Rogers & Griley, entertainers, who will appear Feb. 1.

1911 FIRE LOSS IS VERY SMALL

Seventy-Six Alarms in Year and Entire Damage Is Approximately $5676

Rhineland was exceptionally fortunate regarding fire losses during the year 1911, there being only two serious fires—the paper mill and the burning of the Bigelow residence on the north side in which Mrs. Bigelow lost her life.

During the year just closed the local fire department responded to 76 alarms. These were spread out in the twelve months of the year as follows: January 17, February 9, March 10, April 3, May 3, June 4, July 11, September 2, October 1, November 5, December 11. August was the only month in which the department was not called into service.

January heads the list with 17 alarms. The majority of the fires were small, many being burning chimneys.

The most important blazes were as follows:

January 3, Dr. J. M. Hogan's residence.

January 5, Car of merchandise in Soo line yards.

June 30, Rhinelander Paper Company's plant.

July 26, Bigelow home; one life destroyed.

October 24, Dr. F. L. Hinman's building.

Approximate loss for year $5676.50.

Rhineland has one of the finest and best equipped fire departments of any city of its size in the state and its services during the last year are deserving of much commendation.

STARTS LUMBER BUSINESS

M. R. Sutliff Engages in Trade at Park Falls

On Jan. 1, M. R. Sutliff, who for nearly two years has been manager of the sales department of the Atwood Lumber & Mfg. Co., embarked in the lumber business for himself. He will handle lumber, posts, poles, and other forest products on the commission plan and will also buy and sell on "spec" to some extent. Mr. Sutliff has a wide acquaintance with buyers and sellers of lumber and has the confidence and good will of all who know him. He knows the business thoroughly and his friends here and elsewhere will be pleased to know that he considers his prospects as very satisfactory. All hope that his success may exceed his most sanguine expectations and that he may long make Park Falls his headquarters.—Park Falls Herald

ATTEND INSTALLATION

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Kolden, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lovett, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Morris McRae, Mr. and Mrs. C. Paulk and daughter, Miss Marie, were at Antigo, Friday in attendance at the installation of officers of the Antigo Commandery.

FREEZES HANDS; MAY LOSE FINGERS

William Williams Has Terrible Experience in Cold Early To-Day.

Wm. Williams, a young man who represents Gately & Wiggins of Iron Mountain, Mich., is confined to a room at the Crystal restaurant, suffering with painfully frozen hands and wrists as the result of a terrible experience early this morning with the temperature 30 degrees below zero.

At Heaford Junction, Williams failed to board No. 3, the east bound Soo limited when it slowed up for the St. Paul crossing and as the train was passing him grabbed one of the vestibule rails with the hopes of attracting the attention of the train men. He wore no mittens and in one hand held his traveling case. He was unable to make his presence known to the train crew and rode at least three miles on the swiftly moving train, when his fingers became so numb that he could no longer retain his hold on the rail and fell to the ground. His grip was ground under the wheels. Williams' fingers were frozen hard as rocks, but with wonderful fortitude he started to walk for shelter. At the first farm house he applied for admission, but according to his own story, he was refused. At another house he was also denied entrance and the farmer refused to hitch his team and drive him to Rhinelander.

After a walk of 14 miles in one of the coldest nights of the year, Williams reached here at 7 o'clock this morning more dead than alive. His condition is pitiable and it is feared that amputation of all his fingers will be necessary. Williams has a wife and two children.

OLD HOTEL CLOSES

Arlington House Is One of City's Land Marks

One of Rhinelander's oldest hotels the Arlington, is closed for the first time since it was opened to the public over a quarter of a century ago. W. J. Monahan, who has been landlord at the Arlington for the last two years, has on account of ill health been obliged to retire from the business.

The Arlington is one of the prominent landmarks of Rhinelander. The hotel was erected by the late Thomas McDermott Sr., who was one of the city's pioneers. For a number of years he personally conducted the business and upon his retirement from active life his son, Thomas McDermott, took charge of the hotel. The next landlord following the McDermott reign was Wm. Usher, who was in the Arlington for over two years. After he left the business Mr. Monahan took possession. The Arlington generally had a large patronage and was a favorite stopping place among the woods and river men. Every spring and fall the hotel was crowded with this class of trade.

Last summer O. A. Hilgerman purchased the Arlington property from the McDermott estate and announced at the time that he would erect a modern up-to-date hotel on the site if given the proper encouragement from Rhinelander citizens. The location is excellent and it is hoped that Mr. Hilgerman's plans may be carried out at some future day.

LADIES TO ENTERTAIN

Invitations have been issued for a concert and dancing party at the Armory Thursday evening, Jan. 18. Concert at 8:30; dancing at 9:00.

Those who have the affair in charge are, Mesdames T. B. McDoe, D. F. Recker, E. A. Forbes, H. F. Steele, C. H. Donaldson, H. L. Reers, L. A. Leadbetter, F. A. Harrison, W. D. Brown, R. J. LaSelle and A. S. Pierce and Misses Helen Alban, Edith Brown, Edna Brown, Estelle Houart, Lou Vaughan, May Brown, Helen Brown, Prudence Keubmsted, Janette Burasen and Mae Brown.

TRAIN IS ABANDONED

No Afternoon Mail or Daily Newspaper Tuesday

Rhineland had no afternoon mail service over the Northwestern road Tuesday. Owing to the cold the north bound passenger train No. 117, became so far behind schedule that the train was abandoned. This is the first time such a condition has occurred this winter and in fact for several winters. All mail from Milwaukee, Chicago and other points south of this city did not arrive until about ten o'clock Wednesday morning.

People who are subscribers to Milwaukee and Chicago daily papers were forced to go 24 hours and more without learning of the happenings of the outside world. All afternoon papers were received here one day late.

WEATHER IS STILL INTENSELY COLD

Thermometer Continues to Remain Many Degrees Below Zero Mark.

The intense cold weather still continues and at the present time there is no indication of a change in conditions. The warmer wave which was scheduled by the weather man to come this way last Friday failed to materialize and the temperature has succeeded in keeping well below the zero mark.

The government thermometer at the sub station which can be depended upon always for reliability in registering the temperature recorded the week's temperature as follows:

Friday morning 25 below; Saturday morning 20; Sunday morning 38; Monday morning 19; Tuesday morning 20 Wednesday morning 32; Thursday morning 37.

Old inhabitants assert that this is the coldest winter since 1888, when on four successive days following New Years the temperature dropped to 26, 34, 31 and 48 degrees.

Up-to-date the snow fall has measured four and one-half feet and the coldest day was 38 degrees below.

The winter of 1898 and 1899 was also exceptionally cold, there being a continued spell of almost a month's duration. Few cases of suffering from the cold have been reported in Rhinelander.

LUMBER MARKET GOOD.

C. P. Crosby Gives His Opinion of the Trade Situation

Speaking of the lumber market in this part of the state C. P. Crosby gave out the following:

"While there is the usual lull, as is generally the case at this time of year, there are few instances where customers have asked to have their shipments held back. On the contrary they seem to be glad to have them coming along. Inquiries are very plentiful and usually from yards or wholesalers whose stocks are low. They undoubtedly represent the sentiments of their own customers who are low on supplies and will have to buy soon. Most wholesalers say freely that prospects are better than they have been for several years. This applies more to those who handle hardwoods and pine lumber than it does to the handlers of hemlock. Stocks of hemlock are not large and they will be all wanted this winter and spring, but the prices are too low for profit.

"Some orders are coming in all the time and all woods seem to be about equally needed. Birch, hard maple, soft elm, basswood—all seem to be about alike. The sash and door trade is not calling for lumber as much as dealers would like to see, but the furniture and implement makers are doing most of the business now, while the box makers are buying low grades extensively."

NEW BANK BLOCK IS NOW COMPLETE

Beautiful Home of the First National Bank Is Ready for Occupancy

It is with a feeling of unbounded pride that the people of Rhinelander observe the beautiful new building of the First National Bank, which is now completed and partly occupied. Few cities of this class in Wisconsin can boast of such an elegant and substantial business block. Aside from the First National Bank, which will be comfortably installed in its new home next Monday, apartments have been leased to A. S. Pierce, Danielson & Pierce, F. E. Kretlow, Miller & Rees, Attorney C. F. Smith and Dr. C. A. Richards. There are two remaining suites on the second floor which have as yet not been rented.

The structure was designed by Purcell, Felck & Elmelle, architects of Minneapolis, and built by H. Herman & Sons. The material used is grain drop sand stone and tapestry brick, a durable and attractive combination. The interior of the building is in trimmed quarter sawed oak with dark antique finish. Walls and ceiling in light tint. John Jesslyn of Antigo had supervision of the painting and decorating. The first floor is constructed of reinforced concrete laid with green mosaic tile. Concrete walls line the basement where the steam heating plant is located. Both gas and electricity are used for lighting purposes. In every room there is hot and cold water with all modern equipment. The heating, ventilating and sewage systems throughout the building are perfect.

Features of the bank apartments proper are the spacious well lighted lobby, ladies' rest and waiting room, and safety deposit desk room, which will be appreciated by the patrons.

The safety deposit safe and money safe are manufactured by the Debold Safe and Lock Company and are of the latest pattern, absolutely fire and burglar proof. The vaults are enclosed in concrete walls one foot thick in the middle of which are one-half inch steel bars laid horizontal and perpendicular with four inch centers. A complete description of these safes and vaults will be given in a later issue.

To give fully a description of the new bank block would require columns of space and one can only comprehend a true idea of the beauty and magnificence of the building by personal inspection.

LOOKS GOOD TO HIM

Hon. D. B. Stevens writes from St. Maries, Idaho, that he is well and enjoying himself. He reports that it has been from zero to twenty above the past two weeks. He starts for California about Jan. 20. He remarks, "I am satisfied here but Rhinelander and the old home would look good to me."

GETS THIRTY DAYS

Ed. Carpenter Takes Pair of Shoes From Soo House

For the theft of a pair of shoes Ed. Carpenter is doing a thirty days sentence at the county jail.

Carpenter took the footwear from the room of Allen Rowe, a boarder at the Soo Hotel on Thayer Street, Monday. The theft was shortly discovered and Carpenter was arrested by Officer O'Malley in a Thayer St. saloon where he was endeavoring to dispose of the shoes to the bar-keeper. Caught with the goods there was nothing for the offender to do but accompany the officer to municipal court where he pleaded guilty and was handed the above sentence.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Morter have returned to Lodi after a visit with his brother, T. J. Morter, and Attorney R. J. Morter.

NEW BILLIARD PARLOR

Will Open At 207 Stevens Street On January 20

In this issue of the New North appears an ad. for D. A. Bain & Co., who on Jan. 20 will open a new pool and billiard hall in the building at 167 Stevens Street vacated this week by Danielson & Pierce. The company was organized at Antigo, and consists of D. A. Bain and Otto Kledatz.

Mr. Kledatz will have charge of the business here. Of him the Antigo Journal says the following:

"Mr. Kledatz has been a resident of this city for eight years, five years of which he followed the printers' trade. About four years ago he became an employee of the Belinger Cigar Store, and with the exception of a few months has been in the store ever since. He is a reliable young man and has the qualities that will make him a popular proprietor."

SOO TO PURCHASE W. & N. RAILROAD

Line From Neenah To North Crandon Soon To Be Part Of Great System

Private notices from Milwaukee state that within the next year the Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie railway, will own the Wisconsin & Northern railroad, according to an article in the Eagle-Star of Marinette.

The Wisconsin & Northern is a short line between Shawano and Crandon, built five years ago as a logging railroad and since maintained as a commercial proposition. The company already has secured right of way and has surveyed a line between Shawano and Neenah and Menasha on the south. The Soo line acquired control of and absorbed the Wisconsin Central a few years ago and at Neenah and Menasha the extended Wisconsin & Northern would connect with the Soo line.

At present all Chicago business from the Soo, including the Canadian Pacific business from that point, goes over the Soo line to Prentice Junction, several miles west of Crandon. The connecting up of the South Shore with the old Wisconsin Central and the Wisconsin Northern by extending the latter line to Sidnaw, which is the plan as announced, would give the Soo line a direct route to the copper country, coming in from Sidnaw, over the South Shore.

LEASE THE BIJOU

Hanson & Taylor Will Return Here After February 1st

Hanson & Taylor have leased the first floor of the Shepard block, the Bijou theater, on Davenport Street and will open a moving picture show therein after February 1. Mr. Hanson was in the city this week completing the deal.

Some substantial improvements will be made in the Bijou and as soon as the weather permits work along that line will commence. It is the intention to convert the house into one of the finest moving picture theaters in the state.

The many friends of Hanson & Taylor are pleased to note their return to Rhinelander.

BUYS BUSINESS BLOCK

J. J. Remo has purchased from Peter Rouman the building on Davenport Street occupied by Kretlow's pharmacy. Mr. Remo intends to remodel the property, putting in several costly improvements. The first floor will be rented and the second floor will be occupied by Mr. Remo's land and real estate agency. This is a very desirable business property.

Chicken Pot Pie

The Chef's Favorite

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of The Boston Cooking School Magazine

Some folks think that only "colored rammies" can cook chicken, but a trial of this famous chicken pot pie disproves that assertion. Every member of the family will thoroughly enjoy it.

K.C. Chicken Pot Pie, Baked Dumplings
One pound in joints, 1/2 cup flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, black pepper, 2 cups flour, 3 level teaspoons K.C. Baking Powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup shortening, milk or cream.

Cover the fowl with boiling water and let simmer until tender, then remove to a baking dish. Mix the 1/2 cup flour, salt and black pepper with cold water to a smooth paste and use to thicken the broth. Remove the fat from the top of the broth if necessary before adding the thickening. Pour this gravy over the fowl, until it is nearly covered, and reserve the rest to serve apart. Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt, three times; into this work the shortening and use cream or milk to make a dough, less stiff than for biscuits. Put this by spoonfuls over the fowl in the dish, which it should rest upon and completely cover. Let bake about 35 minutes.

When young, tender chickens are scarce, this recipe is most useful in any way of serving old fowl. While the fowl is cooking, the dumplings are more appetizing than when served as a stew. Try this and the 60 other dishes as recipes in the K.C. Cook Book, a copy of which may be secured free by sending to the nearest K.C. Retailer or to the K.C. Cook Book Co., Chicago.

Several remained in their seats too frightened to move but all escaped unhurt through the coolness of the operator, who extinguished the flame before they started to creep down the walls of the building. The loss was about $500. The theater was one of the best patronized here, as it was thought that non-inflammable films were in use.

ENDORSED AT HOME

Such Proof as This Should Convince Any Rhinelander Citizen

The public endorsement of a local citizen is the best proof that can be produced. None better, none stronger can be had. When a man comes forward and testifies to his fellow-citizens, addresses his friends and neighbors, you may be sure he is thoroughly convinced or he would not do so. Telling one's experience when it is for the public good is an act of kindness that should be appreciated. The following statement given by a resident of Rhinelander adds one more to the many cases of Home Endorsement which are being published about Doan's Kidney Pills. Read it.

George Nagle, merchant, 26 Brown St., Rhinelander, Wis., says: "We have used Doan's Kidney Pills in our family for backache and kidney trouble and the results have been satisfactory. We do not think there is a better kidney medicine to be had than Doan's Kidney Pills and we recommend them at every opportunity."

DELICATE CHILDREN

Made Strong by Vinol

"I wish I could induce every mother who has a delicate, sickly child, to try your delicious cod liver oil tonic, Vinol."

"It restored our little daughter to health and strength after everything else had failed. It tastes so good she loved to take it—not a bit of cod liver oil taste.—Mrs. C. W. Stump, Canton, Ohio."

The reason Vinol is so successful in building up puny, delicate, ailing children, is because it is a combination of the two most world-famed tonics—the medicinal body-building elements of cod liver oil, added by the blood-making and strength-creating properties of tonic iron.

If we can induce you to try a bottle of Vinol as a body-builder and strength-creator for your child, and you do not find it is all we claim, we will return your money on demand.

Out of the city guests were Mrs. Otto Abel and Mrs. Delima Ano of Antigo.

KILL BLACK FOX

Wallis and Robert Baker, two young men of Crandon, have captured a black fox. The animal ran into a hollow log east of the old Montey camps. The boys blocked the end of the log and cut into the middle to get their prize, and were elated to discover that it was a black fox. They shot it with a revolver so as not to injure the hide and brought it to town. They refuse an offer of $100 for the hide from a local dealer.

The supreme court of the state of Wisconsin has decided that the state income tax is constitutional. The only people who are worrying about that are those who have large incomes. The laboring man has little to worry about.

The name of State Superintendent Charles P. Cary has been suggested for governor, as a sort of anti-university candidate on the Republican ticket. When told of the suggestion Mr. Cary said he is an educator, not a politician, and his only ambitions are along educational lines. Mr. Cary may not be a full fledged politician, but he has for several years shown pronounced symptoms of the disease.—Stevens Point Journal.

The meeting of the Democratic national committee this week was a harmonious gathering although the first symptoms indicated a stormy gathering. W. J. Bryan was much in evidence for a man who is considered down and out.

The stalwarts are rejoicing over what Governor Osborne did not say to Senator LaFollette but relieved him self of when the Senator did not appear. A man who would accept an invitation to introduce a speaker at a public gathering and then give the tirade which Osborne says he intended to give had Senator La Follette been present is too contemptible to consider. We regret the senator could not meet his appointment, but we are not afraid that he would not hold his own in a mix-up with a man of Osborne's caliber.

DON'T GO BLINDLY

There seems to be a move on foot by a "few" to force the Commission Form of Government on the people of this city before it is thoroughly understood by the voters. Beware that you know all about this plan before you take steps to adopt it for the city of Rhinelander.

We are willing to be convinced but we wish to know where we are at. We are willing to loan you a book on this subject that you may get posted. Do not go blindly.

THE OPEN WINDOW

These are the days when we hesitate whether we shall open the windows to our sleeping rooms when it is forty below or run the chances of dying from impure air and leave the windows closed.

Dr. Hill, a lecturer on physiology, at the Landon Hospital, claims that warm air is not so healthful as cold air. He says that while not over 1 to 2 per cent of carbonic acid should be allowed in a room at ordinary temperature, that from 2 to 3 per cent will do no harm if the room is kept cool. He demonstrates

ONLY TOO TRUE

In a recent article dealing with the Radcliffe murder case the Vilas County News contained the following regarding the "Committee of Twelve" of this city:

At the time of greatest excitement over the murder the good people of that city met and formed their "Committee of Twelve" to investigate and root out the evils which give that place such an unsavory reputation. What has this committee accomplished? Where are the results of this spasmodic attempt to enforce the law? Organized, no doubt, with good intent, this committee had high plans of their work, but good intentions without results are useless. The blot on Rhinelander's character which this crime must unmistakably leave, cannot be removed in the eyes of Vilas county's people, with such conditions and actions as exist and are allowed today. Rhinelander is not yet vindicated.

ACCEPTS CITY'S OFFER

At the council meeting last week the proposition of the Monico Excelsior Co., was accepted and $2000.00 was voted to be given if twenty thousand dollars per year is paid for labor. The whole proposition is under the council proceedings of this issue. We are informed that since the meeting the Excelsior Company has accepted the city's proposition. Many think this will be of benefit to the city and as we understand it, will be of benefit to the saw mills whose product the Excelsior Company uses.

Mr. Cable, the manager, informs a New North representative that the company expects to get located in the city about July first. He also states that the company uses the cheapest products of the mills, that last year they purchased much of the cheaper lumber of Brown Bros. mill, also bought from other mills in this city. Not only will they use the bulk of the cheaper materials of the mills but will be in the market for cheap woods sold by the farmers. A kind for which there would be no other market in Rhinelander.

FOR SWEET CHARITY'S SAKE

This is the season of charity balls, held in many cities of the state for the cause of charity. But one thought persists in intruding upon our meditations. "Do we really do it for charity or not?" In the larger cities of the country vast sums are spent for decorations, refreshments, music and other things of that nature and when we study the report of the committee in charge we see that about 20 per cent of the total receipts are saved for charity. If these balls are held that we may have an evening of pleasure, that we may have a chance to show off some beautiful imported gown, or a large fortune in jewels, all well and good but let us not call them charity balls. If we are really doing this for charity would we not contribute the money spent for tickets to the ball, for costumes and all the other expenses, to a fund, for the benefit of charity, and leave the ball part out of it entirely. In Milwaukee this year they are appealing to some who have returned their tickets to again accept them stating that the five dollars for the ticket will keep a child in comfort for some time at the Home. But will it? What proportion of the five dollars will go to the dependent children? We know one man to whom the committee sent two tickets, who returned them and then sent his check for ten dollars direct to the Associated Charities. This was for Sweet Charity's sake indeed, but we have our doubts about the charity balls.

ANOTHER JOKER

Attorney General Wickersham in his annual report takes a great deal of credit for the fact that the receipts in his department from fines etc., on account of the suits against various corporations exceeded the total expenditures of his department by something like one million dollars. However to the thoughtful citizen this appears to be only one more method of indirect taxation. Where does Mr. Wickersham suppose the trusts got the money to pay these fines and where will they get all the other money necessary to defend the suits and pay their fines if the Government wins? The poor consumer will pay the freight as he has the past year. How long is it going to take to convince our prosecuting attorneys and Federal officials that the average citizen will be better off in the long run to leave the trusts alone rather than have a long and costly litigation and punish the convicted corporation by a heavy fine. The corporation natural ly and logically raises its prices to the consumer and the expenses of the litigation are paid, not by the offender but by the poor helpless bystander. If the Federal government wants to make the trusts and monopoly business in this country unpopular, let them prosecute the officers and directors of these corporations, criminally and as individuals. The Archbishops, the Arnolds, the Swifts, the Hines, and others of that class are in greater fear of one month in jail than a fine of any amount. In one case they turn their punishment over to the people to pay while in the other, there is no escape and they must pay it themselves. Charge the system of prosecution and the trusts will dissolve of their own volition.

VAN HISE ANSWERS CARY

"Whatever government by experts and commissions now exists in Wisconsin has been created by the state legislatures, and not, of course, by the University of Wisconsin," said President Charles R. Van Hise of the University of Wisconsin. In discussing Superintendent C. P. Cary's second letter criticising the state university.

Law Makers Want Aid

"The legislature some years ago established the legislative reference bureau to give the members expert assistance in framing laws. Appreciating that the sound legislation which followed in Wisconsin was largely in consequence of this department, a number of other states established legislative reference libraries. The development of methods of scientific legislation was carried one stage farther by the last legislature in the creation of a public affairs board having comprehensive authority of investigation and initiative to recommend with reference to all public questions.

Governors Appoint Experts

"The university professors who are the members of the state commissions have been appointed by the governors of the state, not by the university. Members and committees of the legislature have requested some of the university faculty to give them expert assistance. Thus, these representatives of the people of the state, not the University of Wisconsin, have brought about whatever increased expert service the university has been able to render the state government.

People for Model State

"If the people of Wisconsin have been dissatisfied with the kind of government which their representatives have created for them in this state during the last decade, and which has made Wisconsin a model for other states, and in some respects for the United States, the people have not expressed their dissatisfaction at the polls by selecting less constructive law makers and administrators.

Object Lesson Says Roosevelt

"What ex-President Theodore Roosevelt wrote in the Outlook on 'Wisconsin: An Object Lesson for the Rest of the Union,' after his visit to the Wisconsin legislature and to the university last spring, may not be without application to the present criticism of the university, Colonel Roosevelt declared: 'I found the leaders of political life (in Wisconsin) so far from adopting the cheap and foolish cynicism of attitude taken by too many politicians toward men of academic training, turning equally, as a matter of course, toward the faculty of the university for the most practical and efficient aid in helping them realize their schemes for social and civic betterment.'

Taft Appoints Experts

"President Taft's appointment of college professors to the Interstate Commerce Commission, and similar bodies, is a recognition by the United States government of the value of expert assistance by university professors in the solution of great national problems. Prof. D. H. Meyer of the University of Wisconsin, was appointed by President Taft to the Interstate Commerce Commission. On President Taft made President Arthur T. Hadley of Yale chairman and Prof. B. H. Meyer of the University of Wisconsin a member. Prof. Henry C. Emery of Yale was appointed head of the Tariff Board by President Taft, who also made Prof. Thomas W. Page of the University of Virginia a member of that board.

State Needs Good Laws

"If we are to be a truly progressive government, which is doing for its people what was declared to be desirable by the Declaration of Independence and the preamble to the Constitution of the United States, we shall be obliged to recognize that the formulation of constructive law is a science which demands the assistance of the best trained experts along many lines. The alliance of legislators and experts in the state of Wisconsin makes it a pioneer in this movement. The historian of the future must give Wisconsin the leadership in this new era of constructive legislation, beginning with the twentieth century, the distinguishing feature of which will be that government in the interests of the individual has given way to government in the interests of the whole people."

IS A CANDIDATE

To the Republicans of Wisconsin: In view of the fact that Republicans in every part of Wisconsin have advised me to become a candidate for State Treasurer, and have cordially volunteered to give me their active support, I have decided to seek the republican nomination for that office at the primary to be held on the first Tuesday in September, 1912.

It is not merely the generous and unsolicited promise of support that has influenced my action, but I appreciate that those who have given me encouragement were instrumental under the leadership of Robert M. LaFollette, in making this the most progressive and best governed state in the union.

Whatever I have contributed to the cause has been given freely and with no thought of reward, and I do not ask for support on the ground of party service. I trust that my record as a member of the assembly and of the senate is known to the voters of Wisconsin, and should they see fit to elect me State Treasurer, it will be my endeavor to conduct the office in an honest and economical manner.

GETTING AHEAD IN NOR. WISCONSIN

Four Or Five Cows Will Furnish The Family With A Comfortable Living

How people, starting without capital, push ahead in the upper Wisconsin counties is indicated by the following letter from the Secretary of the Courath Commercial Club to the Ladysmith News-Budget. This is being done in all parts of the upper counties by men who often are compelled to "work out" a portion of the year to support their families until they can keep four or five cows that will furnish the family living when progress is much more rapid. The letter is as follows:

"In regard to the pure bred cows, the committee was not ready to report, but will be at the next regular meeting, Jan. 16, 1912.

"While mentioning pure bred cows, I wish to state a fact that can be vouched for by eye witnesses and actual figures. Our near neighbor, Mr. William Guthrie, paid $50 for two cows and one calf during the month of May, 1911. The cows were in poor condition and of no breed simply cows. Mr. Guthrie commenced to sell cream from these two cows May 15th, 1911, from the sale of which up to Dec. 15, 1911, he received money enough to not only pay for the cows but he bought two calves for which he paid fifteen dollars, also two pigs for which he paid fourteen dollars. One of the cows freshened in June. This leaves him two cows, four calves and two hogs. He also has seven dollars and all the above from two scrub cows in seven months."

What would have been the result if these had been pure bred cows? Any piece of land in upper Wisconsin can be made to support two cows from the start, which can be increased each year. In the upper counties are hundreds of farmers who started a few years ago with nothing who now have farms worth $5000 and upwards free of debt.

Wisconsin has one dairy cow to 8.1 acres of improved land, Michigan one to 16.7 acres, Iowa one to 21 acres, Maine one to 15 acres and Colorado one to 23.5 acres. Of total cattle Wisconsin has one to 4.4 acres Iowa one to 6.6 acres, Michigan one to 8.6 acres and Maine one to 9.2 acres.

SELECT PLANS FOR NEW HIGH SCHOOL

After Brisk Competition Com- mittee Favors T. Gastra Of Chicago

At a competitive contest last Monday evening at the City Hall, twelve architects appeared before a joint committee of three each of the school board and Common Council, to present plans and specifications for a new high school building.

At about four o'clock the following morning the contest was cut down to three. K. T. Snyder of Minneapolis, Feeller and Schober of Green Bay and T. Gastra of Chicago.

At about 11 o'clock Tuesday evening, the plans of T. Gastra of Chicago were chosen. Mr. Gastra reports that he has confidence that this building can be erected complete for $65,000.

This new structure will provide rooms for an up-to-date high school building in every respect; a large commodious assembly room, a large gymnasium, domestic science rooms, recreation rooms and manual training department.

No town is in greater need of a new high school building than Rhinelander and we have faith that work will be begun next spring so that by September 1913, the high school may be housed in comfortable healthful and modern quarters.

RETURNS FROM QUEBEC

Mike Dolan, an old employee of the Yankee-Bissell Lumber company at Arbor Vitae, returned Saturday morning from an extended visit with relatives in the Province of Quebec. He reports times in eastern Canada as lively with plenty of labor and wages good. Nevertheless Mike declares that the dear old U. S. A. is plenty good enough for him.

RESOLUTIONS OF CONDOLENCE

Whereas the Divine Creator in His wisdom has seen fit to call from our midst our beloved friend and neighbor, James Garland, and Whereas, the sudden summons has spread sorrow and gloom in the hearts of the members of this Oneda Council No. 108. Modern Samaritans, be extended to the bereaved family and friends of our departed one.

Resolved, that as a further token of our respect to his memory, the charter of this Council be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days and a copy of these resolutions be spread on the minutes of this Council and a copy tendered to the grief-stricken family.

Chas. Herrick,
Pat Cair,
Bert Green,
Committee.

TWO FINE SIGNS

Two expensive copper wire mesh display signs for Danielson & Pierce and A. S. Pierce, now adorn the windows in the offices of the above firms in the new First National Bank block. These signs are the finest manufactured and are a source of attracting considerable attention and favorable comment.

SLOWLY RECOVERING

Arthur Taylor, who sustained a broken leg when working about his horses nearly two weeks ago, is recovering from the injury as well as could be expected. It will be some time however, before he will be able to appear on the streets again. To one of Arthur's active nature this confinement to the house is anything but agreeable.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the many kind friends and neighbors for their assistance and sympathy during our late bereavement, the death of our son and brother, James Garland.

Mr. and Mrs. William Garland and Family.

MUSICAL PROGRAM

The Woman's Club will give a musical entertainment at the library Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The program consists of the story of Lucia De Lammermoore by Mrs. H. R. Lewis. Music will be taken from the Opera. Admission 15 cents.

Dickens' Real Home.
For 14 years Dickens made Broadstairs his principal summer home in England. London alone held a superior place in his affections. He felt his powers at their apex when he was at the little channel coast town.

ATTEMPT TO FORM SKI CLUB HERE

Gustave Schilbred Is Interest- ing Norwegians In Nation- al Sport

Gustave Schilbred, one of the leading ski riders of this city and an enthusiastic follower of the sport, is making an effort to organize a ski club among the Scandinavian people of Rhinelander.

Providing such an organization is formed Mr. Schilbred says that a scaffold will be erected on one of the steep hills near this city where ski tournaments, such as have been given for years past in northern Michigan and Wisconsin, can be held.

At the present time there are several skilled ski riders, mostly among the Norwegian residents, in Rhinelander. Two of these are Mr. Schilbred and Ludwig Benson, who can be frequently seen at practice work. Sunday on the old tolgan slide on the ridge way drive they each made jumps of fifty feet. With a scaffold both declare that they could easily have lengthened the distance to seventy-five feet or more. It is their intentions to attend the great ski tournament at Ironwood, February 13 and possibly participate in some of the events.

With a ski club and suitable slide here it would be an easy matter to hold a tournament some time next winter that would attract hundreds of visitors to Rhinelander.
